

WE INVITE YOU TO A KEDRION PRESENTATION THEATER

Plasminogen Deficiency Type 1: A Rare Multisystem Disease with Lifelong Clinical Consequences

Agenda:

13:45 to 13:50: Welcome and Introduction

Chair: Professor Per Morten Sandset – Oslo, Norway

13:50 to 14:00: Plasminogen Deficiency Type 1: Disease Overview and Multisystem Pathophysiology

Professor Per Morten Sandset – Oslo, Norway

14:00 to 14:10: Case Study 1: Severe Neonatal Presentation of Plasminogen Deficiency - A Newborn with Hydrocephalus

Professor Christoph Male – Vienna, Austria

14:10 to 14:20: Case Study 2: Reproductive and Gynecologic Manifestations of Plasminogen Deficiency - A Challenging Cause of Infertility

Dr. Vasiliki Gkalea – Athens, Greece

14:20 to 14:30: Q&A and Closing Remarks

Chair and All Speakers

DATE: Tuesday, July 14

TIME: 13:45 to 14:30

ADD TO CALENDAR

LOCATION: Presentation Theater 3,
Level 7.2 in the Exhibit Hall

About the Speakers

Per Morten Sandset, MD, PhD – Professor, Oslo University Hospital, Department of Hematology, Oslo, Norway

Vasiliki Gkalea, MD, PhD – Assistant Professor, Hematology Laboratory, University of Crete School of Medicine, Greece

Christoph Male, MD, MSc – Professor, Medical University of Vienna, Department of Pediatrics, Vienna, Austria

About Kedrion Biopharma

Kedrion biopharma is committed to providing high-quality, plasma-based products to the patients, healthcare professionals, and customers we serve. To learn more about Kedrion, please visit kedrion.com, or scan here.

